

Whaleback Times

January 14, 2023

Good day...hope everyone is resting up on this foggy, rainy day

What's happening in the Ski Park?

Informing members what is happening is a difficult thing to do when it is pouring rain outside and calling for mild weather next week. I'm sure you understand...here goes.

Chalet:

If you are interested in obtaining a locker, please contact Ivan MacDonald at:

itmacdonald4@gmail.com

First come, first serve!

We are aiming to have chalet staff in place for next weekend!

Night skiing will be available this week, Monday-Friday. Please check out Trail Conditions on the website cause as I type, I'm not sure if ski conditions will be suitable.

Chalet Volunteer Schedule will commence on January 23rd or earlier if the ski park is opened. Stay Tuned. Ivan or I will be sending out a message to that effect.

Be careful when entering the chalet...the floor is slippery. We are looking into obtaining more matting.

Hoping to have ski lessons available during the week of Jan. 23 - 27th.

Crossing our fingers that the first Jackrabbit session will go ahead tomorrow

CCNL Tickets will be available to members this week. Check it out on the kitchen counter. Also, don't forget to pick up your membership card which is located on the counter.

Snowy Owl Classic is still on the radar. Saturday, January 28th. Stay tuned.

Don't forget to support our sponsors...

| | |
|-----------------|------------------------|
| Boyd and Bungay | Town of Stephenville |
| Paint Shop | Robert's Home Hardware |
| Marble RV | ICR Building Solutions |
| The Outfitters | |

Take Care and Stay Safe,
Greg N.